Remedy:

Amend the first paragraph as follows.
"Under the Resource Management Act 1991 (Act) regional councils are able to charge for the occupation of the coastal marine area (CMA). Coastal occupation charges cannot be imposed unless the charge is provided for in the regional coastal plan and ensure that private occupation of this public land is recognised, with the loss of public benefit adequately accounted for. The funds raised by such charges can be used not only to mitigate, remedy or otherwise manage the actual or accumulative effects in the area but also in the wider environment (a public benefit). There is no inherent right to occupy public space in the CMA: however, coastal occupation charges must not be imposed on a protected customary rights group or customary marine title group exercising a right under Part 3 of the Marine and Coastal Area (Takutai Moana) Act 2011."
